

Graduate Education Voucher Program

Navy unrestricted line officers may be eligible to receive funding for graduate education under the 2009 Graduate Education Voucher (GEV) program.

The program offers eligible unrestricted line officers the opportunity to receive funded graduate education during off-duty hours.

The GEV program is targeted at officers with demonstrated superior performance and upward career mobility, who are transferring or have recently reported to shore duty, in order to allow sufficient time for completion of a graduate program. The GEV program is open to URL active duty list officers, paygrades O-3 through O-5.

There are 136 quotas available for fiscal year 2009.

Quotas by degree program and warfare areas are available in NAVADMIN 144/08/.

All required fees normally charged by the university relating directly to student application and enrollment, including mandatory health fees and health insurance, laboratory fees, vehicle registration and identification cards, and computer fees are reimbursable. Other reimbursable expenses include the cost of textbooks and course materials, and limited expenditures for transcript and entry fees, and final thesis production. GEV will not, however, be paid retroactively.
